AN OVERVIEW

Le Méridien Bangkok warmly welcomes guests to its newly refreshed home. In the beating heart of Bangkok, discover how the hotel has been reconceptualised in terms of guest rooms, food + beverage presentation and general décor, including a new Memphis-style smokehouse restaurant "Rolling Ribs Brew Bar & BBQ" and a remodelled restaurant + bar.

Le Méridien Bangkok stands out in the Thai capital's Silom commercial district with all 282 guest rooms looking out over the cosmopolitan energy bustling through the surrounding streets.

Restrained sophistication greets every guest in subtly stated room design, each equipped for modern accommodation experiences with virtual office extension.

The hotel offers two distinct restaurants and three bars to explore, and wellness remains at the forefront with SPA by Le Méridien, Flow Onsen, Fitness Centre furnished with the latest in exercise Matrix equipment and an outdoor swimming pool.

Four fully-equipped meeting rooms and two boardrooms fully adapt to wide ranging requirements for hosting business events and social gatherings.

Guests can step into the unexpected at the nearby Patpong Night Market and entertainment zone or venture into any of the area's renowned eateries and small shops. Le Méridien Bangkok is located nearby Saladaeng skytrain and Sam Yarn subway stations facilitating convenient transportation to shopping and sightseeing attractions.

SPA + GYM

Achieving and maintaining self-wellness in the City of Angels has crossed a new threshold at Le Méridien Bangkok, where the entire sixth floor is dedicated to lifestyle enhancement.

Inspired by the rich traditions of European spas, SPA breaks away with refreshing interpretations reflecting the sophisticated ways of today's international travellers. Seven treatment rooms are configured in circles to represent the global meridian from which the brand derives its life force. All treatments and therapies seek to achieve purification, restoration of natural energy, and mind + body harmony. Boasting an all-time top rank on Tripadvisor rating, most favoured features include Thai-Balinese style Discovery Massage and private Onsen inspired by the Chaophraya River and the communities along its banks and neighbouring canals.

The sixth floor also houses a Matrix-equipped fitness centre lined with floor-to-ceiling windows revealing a stretch view of the city. After their workout, guests can relax just outside on the pool deck at Plunge Bar with a creative snack and cool drink while elevating background music plays.

Within short walking distance of Le Méridien Bangkok is Lumpini Park where early morning, afternoon and evening guests can join locals jogging along winding trails that cut through the park's greenery and interlocking lakes.

FLOW ONSEN

The 30-square-metre bathing area includes dressing room and bathroom along with the actual onsen bath. Measuring 2.15 metres wide by 2.3 metres long and 0.6 metres deep, the bath is filled with water rich in specially selected high quality health-giving minerals imported from Japan. Precise formulas change in harmony with the seasons. Open daily for private bookings of maximum two people at a time. Matchless onsen experiences await.

LOCAL AREA

Le Méridien Bangkok rises in style on Surawong Road in the city's Silom area, where peaceful temple grounds and quiet family compounds are intertwined with international restaurants, street-side noodle carts, department stores and sidewalk vendors.

Within a short walk of Le Méridien Bangkok, guests will discover sense-stimulating Patpong Road with its crammed night market and touts luring the curious into neon-lit bars. During the day, the scene transforms into a business district with nearby Pratumwanaram and Hua Lampong Temples offering a refuge for the senses. Located nearby skytrain and subway stations, Le Méridien Bangkok puts exploration of the city's many attractions within traffic-free reach. For instance, the upscale boutiques + eateries of Siam Paragon and Gaysorn shopping centres are on route, as is Chatuchak Weekend Market's bargain-hunting maze.

Le MERIDIEN

Bangkok's world-famous Chinatown, with its labyrinth of hidden temples, hole-in-the-wall restaurants and box-top market stalls, is 15 minutes away transported by Thailand's venerable Tuk Tuk cabs. Meanwhile, the nearby BTS Blue Line connects to Wat Mangkorn, Sam Yot and Sanam Chai in Chinatown and the old town and much more. An also nearby jetty for the river ferry brings visits to Bangkok's Rattanakosin Island, the royal heart of the city replete with antiquities, within 15 minutes.

MEETING IN STYLE

Le Méridien Bangkok offers state-of-the-art facilities supported with uncompromising service standards across some 559 square metres of meetings, conferences and celebrations spaces. The inventory includes 01 Ballroom, 01 middle scale meeting room, 04 boardrooms. At least half of the portfolio enjoys natural lighting, energizing the room and creating a high energetic meeting environment during the daytime. All spaces are equipped with built-in LCD projector and presentation + communication technologies and offer versatile formats for intimate meetings, social events and business gatherings.

The hotel's service team tailors every event to the host's requirements, arranging a personalized stage featuring the desired menus, décor, lighting + entertainment for each occasion. Differentiating its offerings, Le Méridien Bangkok offers dedicated in-house meeting expertise in a One-Point-Stop format that takes care of every detail so the event runs smoothly and exceeds customer expectations.
